

Third Yr. Law.

I. (a) In a twinkling. (b) For good and all. (c) I'll be bound.
 (d) Before a man can say Jack Robinson. (e) Friendly gatherings. (f) Prediction. (g) The even-handed dealing of the world. (h) Perspiration. (i) Opulence. (j) Offal.

II. (a) To drive a coach-and-six through an Act of Parliament.

(b) To play the deuce with a person.

(c) To be particular to a shade.

(d) To lay the cloth. (e) To exalt a person to the skies.

III. Discuss, with reference to the history of their usage the underlined words: — Considering that..., provided that..., during the night.

IV. Correct or justify: —

(a) God have mercy on us! (b) This ass of the man spends his money on such trifles. (c) The book is printing.

(d) B deals with coal. (e) Every person has a right to take care of themselves.

V. Say that avarice is the basest and most selfish of human passions; it loses all in seeking to gain all: what then?

It is only the pursuit of wealth that places us above the sordid contempt of the world in these days.

~~VI. Being for~~

10
VI. Being prepared for almost anything, he was not by any means prepared for nothing; and, consequently, when no ghost made its appearance, quite contrary to his prediction expectation, he was taken with a violent fit of trembling.

20
VII. A man always is to be himself the judge how much of his mind he will show to other men; even to those he would have work along with him. If he walk wearing his heart upon his sleeve for daws to peck at, his journey will not extend far! There is no use for any man's taking-up his abode in a home built of glass.

K. Fatscher

March 29, 1900.