When I'm in for the sack of a town,
What, think ye, I poke after up & down?
Silver and gold I pocket in plenty,
But the sweet tit-bit is my loss under twenty

To save the mark

Apart from its historical value, it balled is an example to poets of our day, who fly on mythological Greece, or a fanciful & morbid medievalism, or — save the mark! — abstract ideas for themes of song, of what may be done to make our rough life poetically interesting, if they would but pluck the treasures presented them by the wayside.

To air one's accomplishment

Returning upon an inclination of his structure he draws up & fetches me a bow of the exact middle nick between dignity & service.

The love...
以下未校録

Man the absolute is undefinable man the concrete <sup>invisible & therefore</sup> has two lateral eyes and one vertical nose & knows the taste of the forbidden fruit

Some men know to soar high; few men know how to come down. They dare not, they will not because the world is too much for them. <sup>Pessimists, visionaries,</sup> Cynics, misanthropes <sup>are a better lot than</sup> the common run of mankind. "Come down" says the word, "it is wide enough for us both." yet they do not because they think they are higher than the rest or because they fear the tear & the wear. Conceit or cowardice, or matter which, is not complimentary to their characters.

The greatest man is an ordinary man who knows the difference and the — between him & the world.

If we go back, we shall be monkeys one long. Darwin has taught us that. If we go forward we shall be gods. Buddha has said so. Which way are we going? <sup>look! look!</sup> Where we are born, we must die. <sup>where</sup>

The autumnal wind came, from afar carry in its eddies a dry shower of yellow leaves & said, "I come from the void & I go to the void"

My love they would just like ordinary men.
Only their love & sorrow ~~are~~ come like cloud & go like water so naturally & spontaneously. ~~Blodden Rd.~~ My give full play to ~~Cambridge New Rd.~~ very fully & but never ~~let~~ <sup>let</sup> 17, 1901 taken prisoner by it; drink

Dear Mr. Craig,

Certainly you may settle what is the answer?

the sound which I make over hills & dale
"the voice of the void."
